Foreword

Hargrave Military Academy has been molding men for fifty-eight years, preparing them for the great contest of life. Every cadet who has attended Hargrave has profited in some way; the fellowship, the experiences, and the academic achievement. For fifty-eight years, Hargrave cadets have been taking their places in the world. Although every cadet is different in some respect, they all have one thing in common—the Hargrave way of life. This is what we, the editors, wish to present in the 1967 CADENCE.

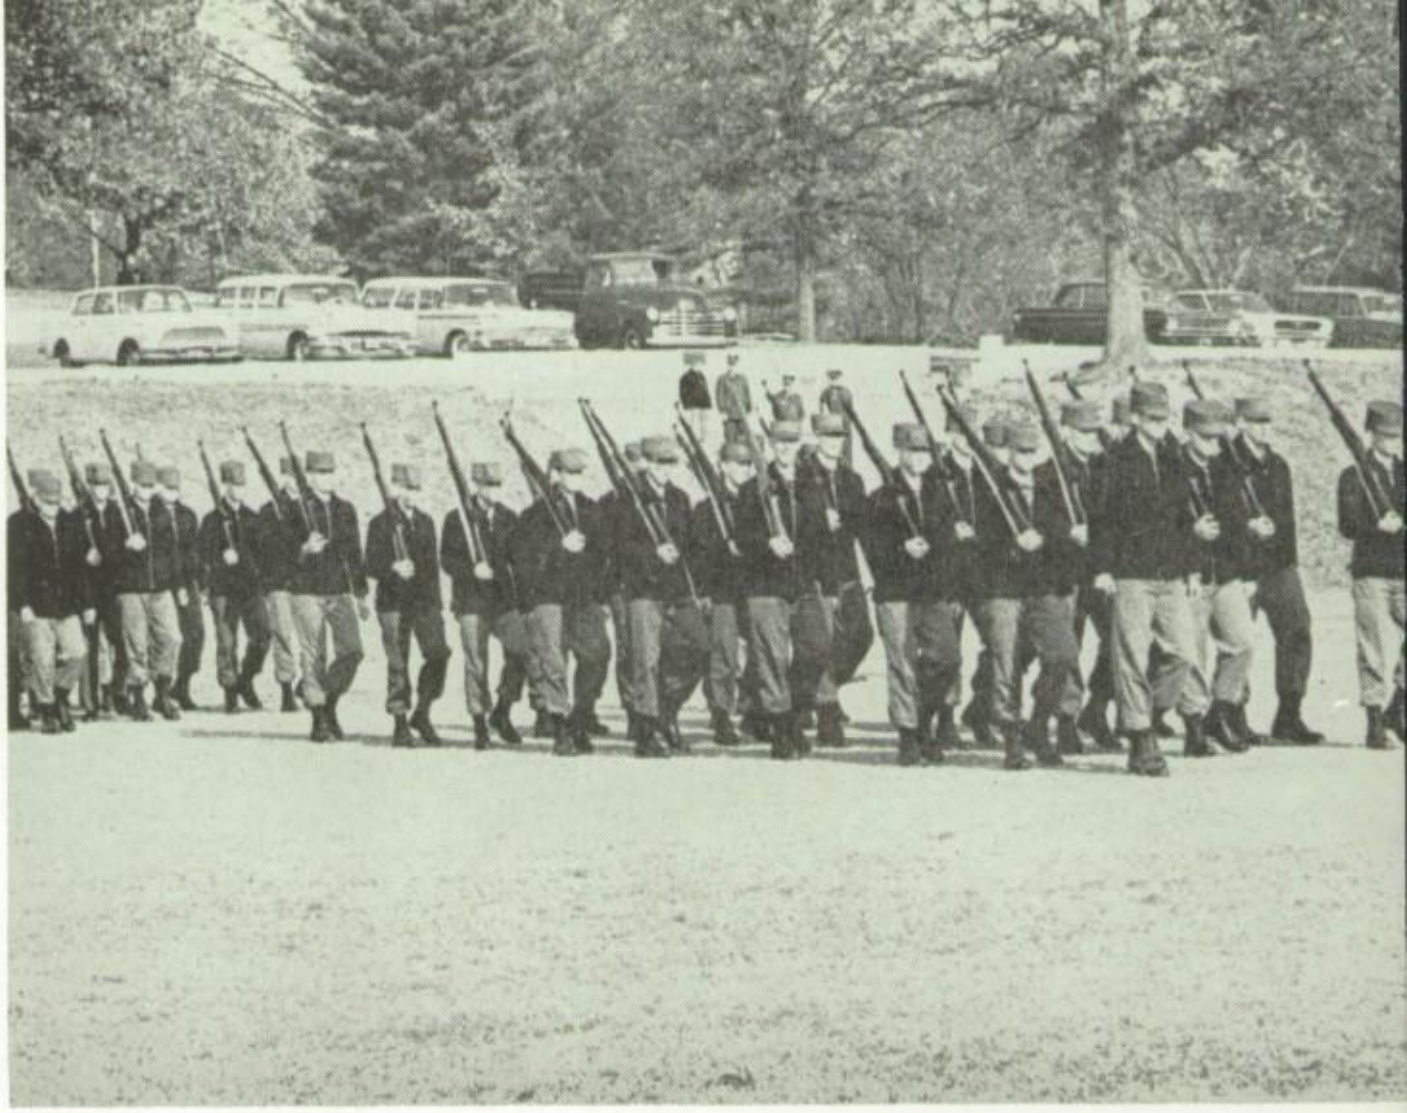

This year at Hargrave Military Academy began much the same as many others have in the past. At the end of August, the officer candidates arrived and, after what seemed an eternity of drill, voice training, and anticipation, they received their commissions. Jack Peebles was chosen to be the Battalion Commander and most of the rest of the officers were satisfied with their rank. Two days later the new cadets arrived and were matriculated, fitted for uniforms, taught the fundamentals of drill, sold their books, and assigned to rooms.

HARGRAVE AS WE SEE IT

With September came mild weather, and with that came drill, and more drill, and more drill, along with the organization of the football, rifle, soccer, and cross-country teams. This year's football team was the best Hargrave has had in fifty years. The team had a seven—two record. This month also ushered in a more comfortable feeling for the new cadets, and everyone was able to get into the groove and establish a schedule. Saturday morning inspection was something new to many of the cadets, but they all seemed to get by without too much difficulty.

October brought more football, more drill, more study, and more inspections, along with the end of the first six-weeks grading period — which was for some a disappointment, but for most an event calling for some celebration. Oh yes, also in October came Parent's Week-end, and the cadets were able to see Mom and Dad for the first time since the beginning of the school year. They were allowed to check-out with them after witnessing a parade (in which the Honor Roll students received their pins) and a luncheon on the front lawn.

Then came November and with it the end of the football season, and the end of the second six-weeks grading period — which, again, had its disappointments and celebrations.

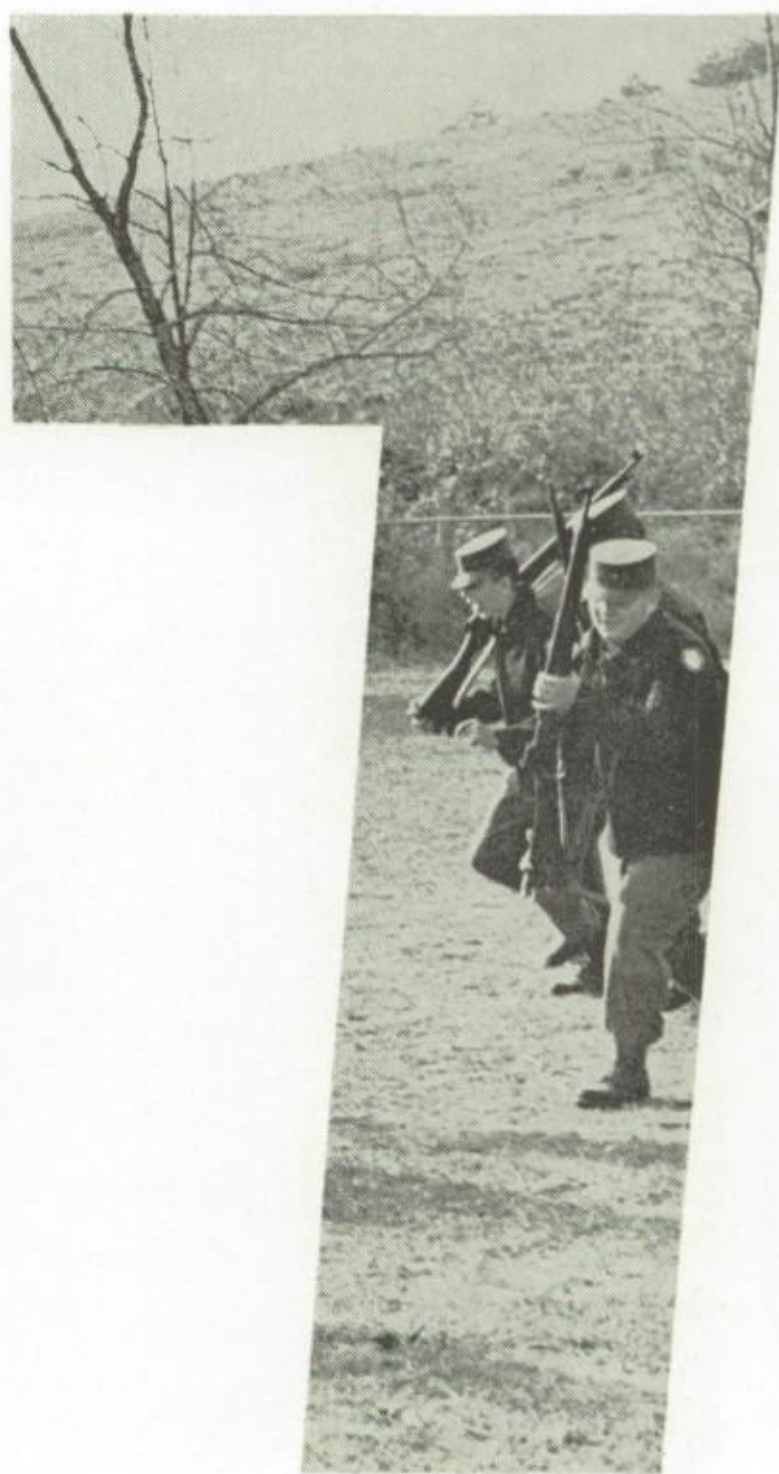

Soon it was December, and everyone knew what was coming — CHRISTMAS LEAVE! There was to be an overabundance of term papers, themes, SRA assignments, and parallel reading, not to mention class assignments, and College Boards. The teachers scared the cadets nearly to death — “You’ll never get home, if you don’t get it in . . . ” they would say.

Then there were tours — Col. Todd said no one could go home until they were walked off — funny how there was a sharp decline in the number received in those last three weeks before Christmas. After a fine banquet put on by the Slater System and the annual party given for the Faith Home by the cadets, it was good-bye Hargrave for two whole weeks. Everyone must have had a fine time because there were countless wild tales floating around when the cadets returned.

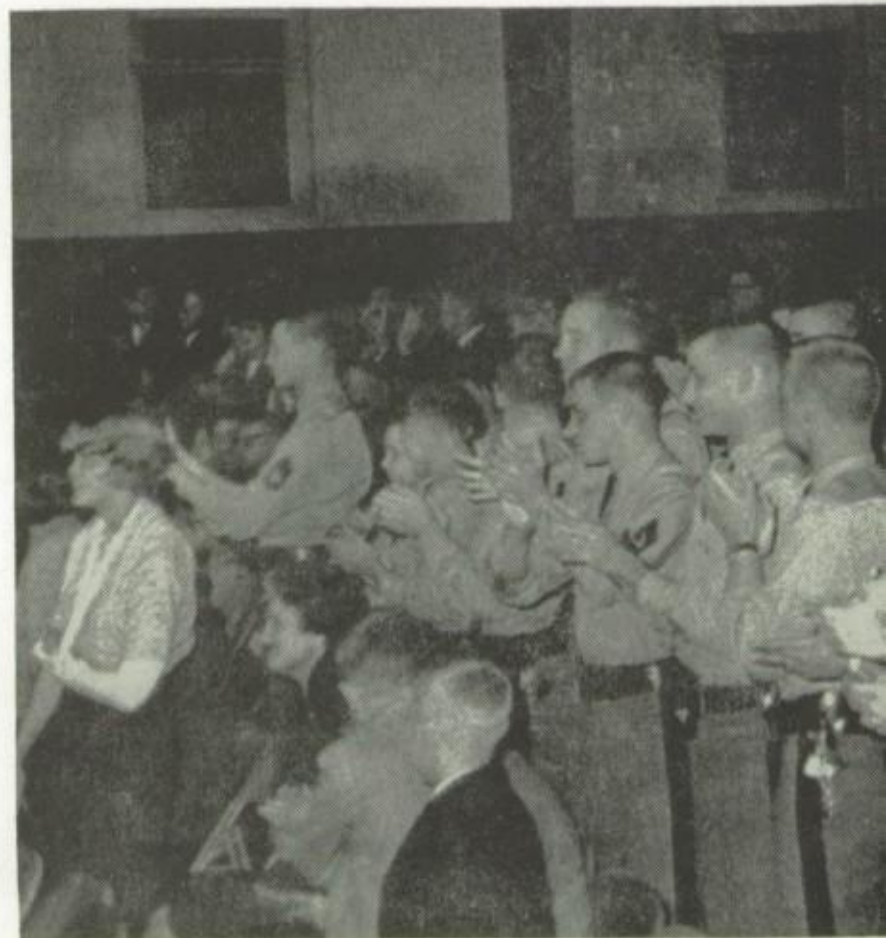

This was on January 2, and everyone seemed happy enough, even with what they had staring them in the face — EXAMS! The cadets studied and crammed, and studied and crammed, and even dared to burn the midnight oil, despite the endless warnings by Col. Todd not to do so. But everyone — well, practically everyone — came through alright. At least those that didn't promised Mom and Dad to do better the next time.

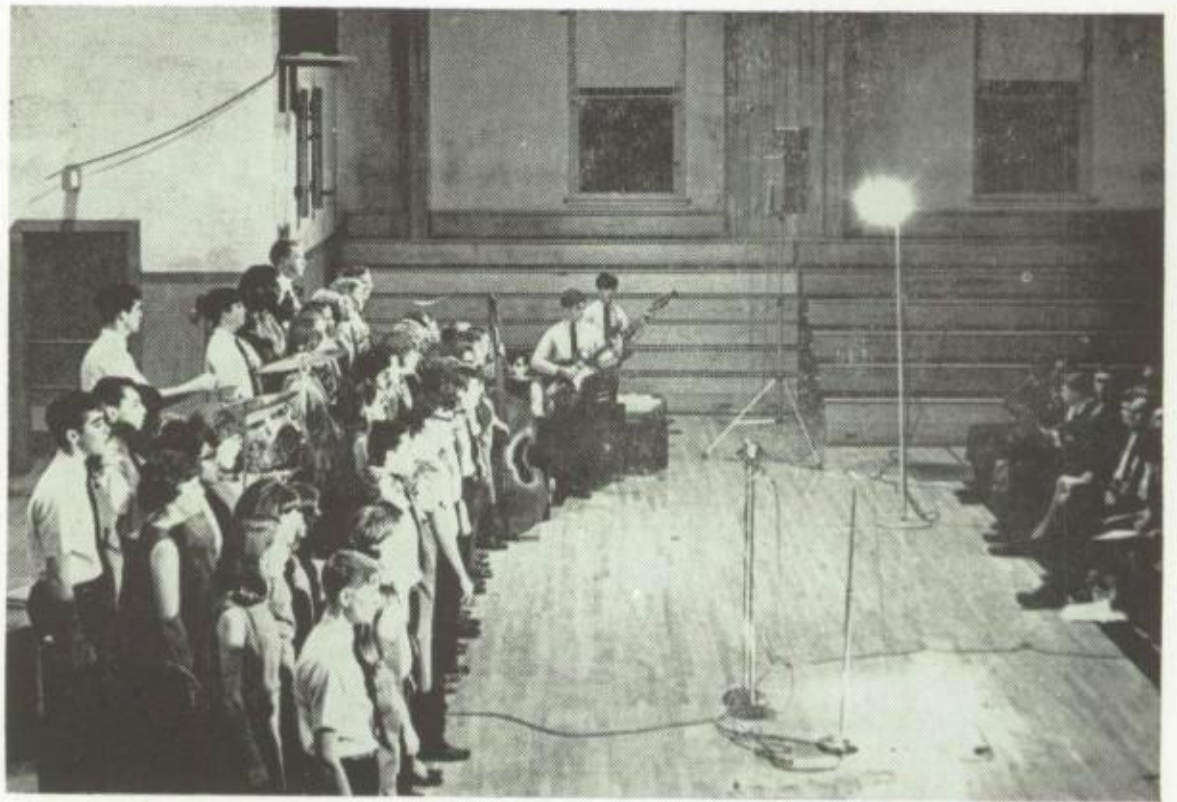

With the end of January came not only the end of the third six-weeks grading period, but also Religious Emphasis Week. The speaker for this annual event was the Reverend Elmer West, of Mars Hill College, who presented to the corps several moving, and interesting sermons.

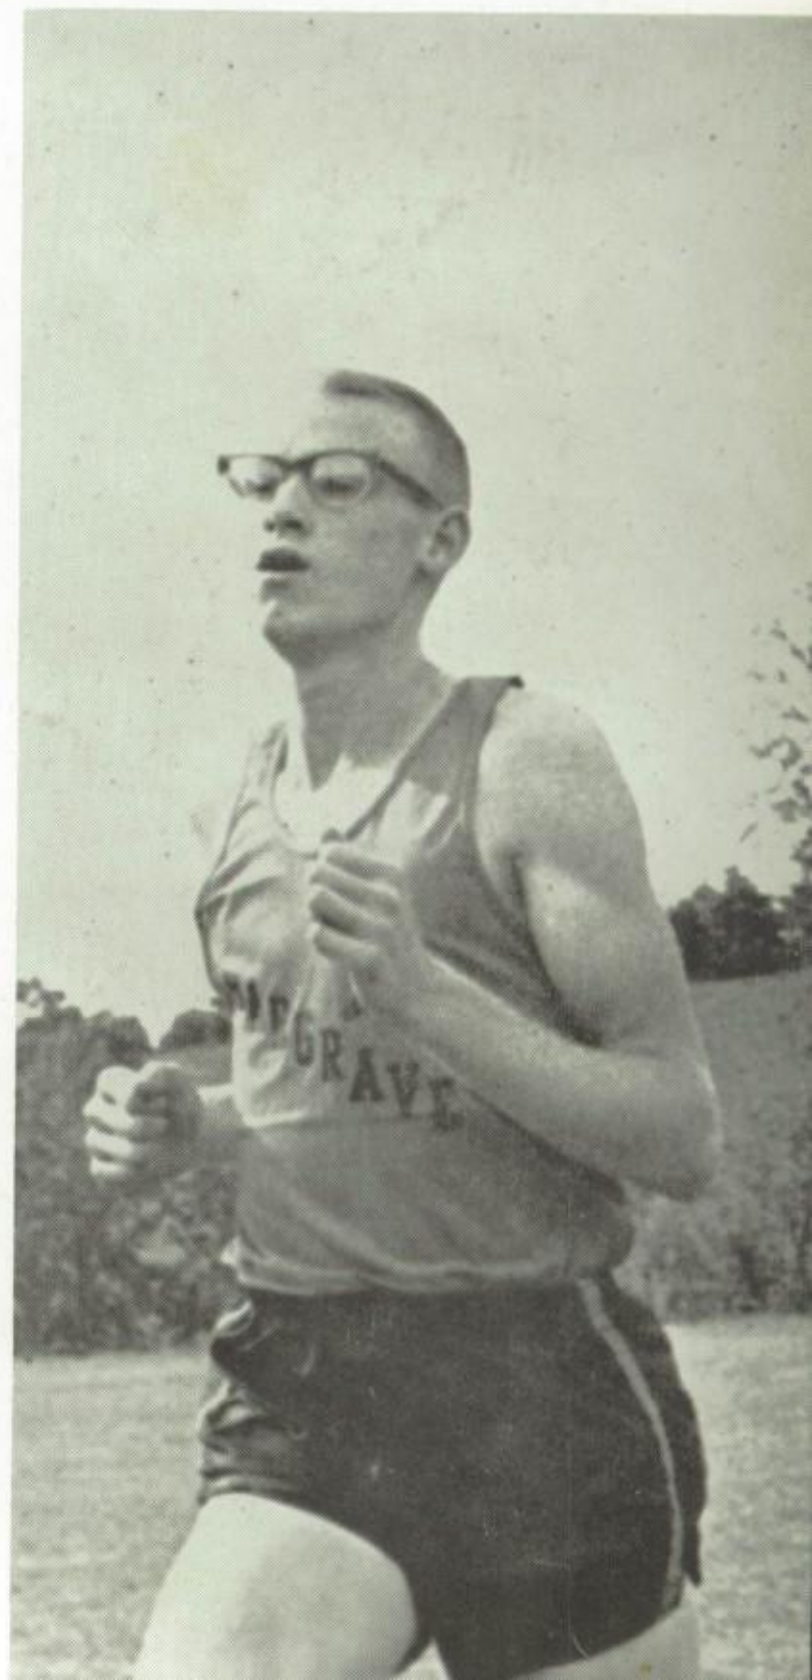

Gary's Show

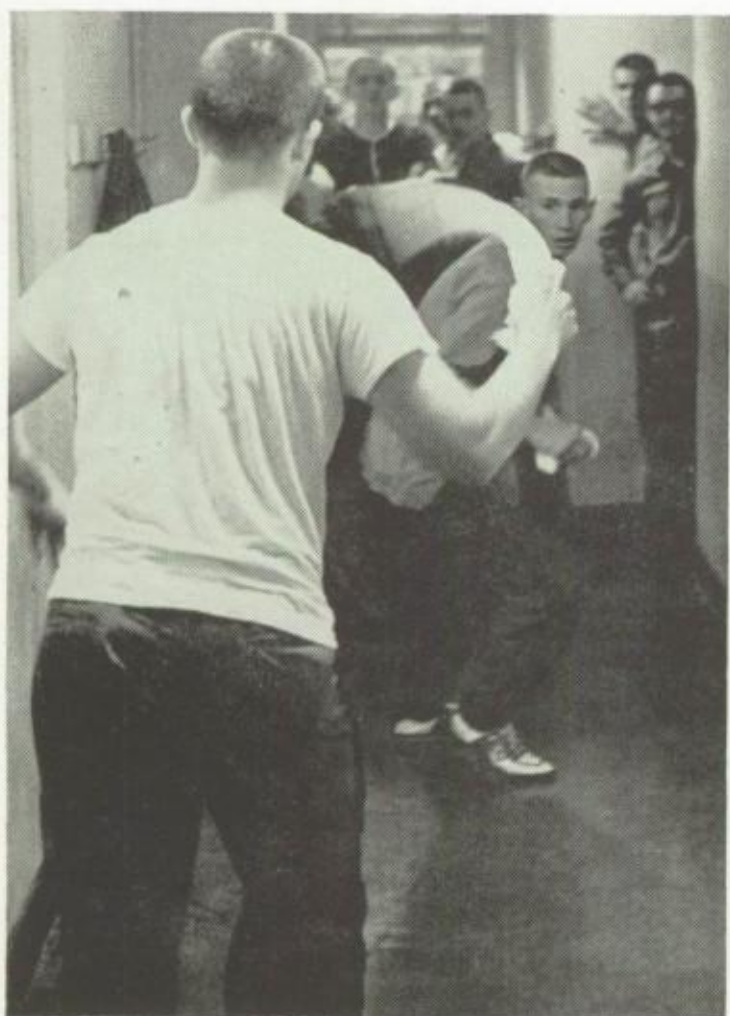

February brought much colder weather than January had. It even snowed, which was quite a surprise since the temperature had hit seventy-one in January. Also in February came the Military Ball, probably the most awaited event of the year. The cadets were able to see Mom and Dad once again, but that was secondary this time, because with the parents came Judie or Joan or Susan or Carol — whatever her name was, she was here for the dance and everyone had a wonderful time, especially the seniors, who were allowed to have an overnight-pass. The officers enjoyed themselves, too, at the party given for them by the Day Students officers at the local Country Club.

February will also be remembered for all the college applications sent in and the few acceptances or rejections sent back. March came in with the breezes and blew in with it not only the first parades of the year, but also Spring Leave. The leave was extended this year so that the cadets could have Easter Sunday at home. Of course, there was a catch. There were classes on Saturday before the leave, but almost everyone was willing to sacrifice one afternoon in the metropolis of Chatham for an extra day at home.

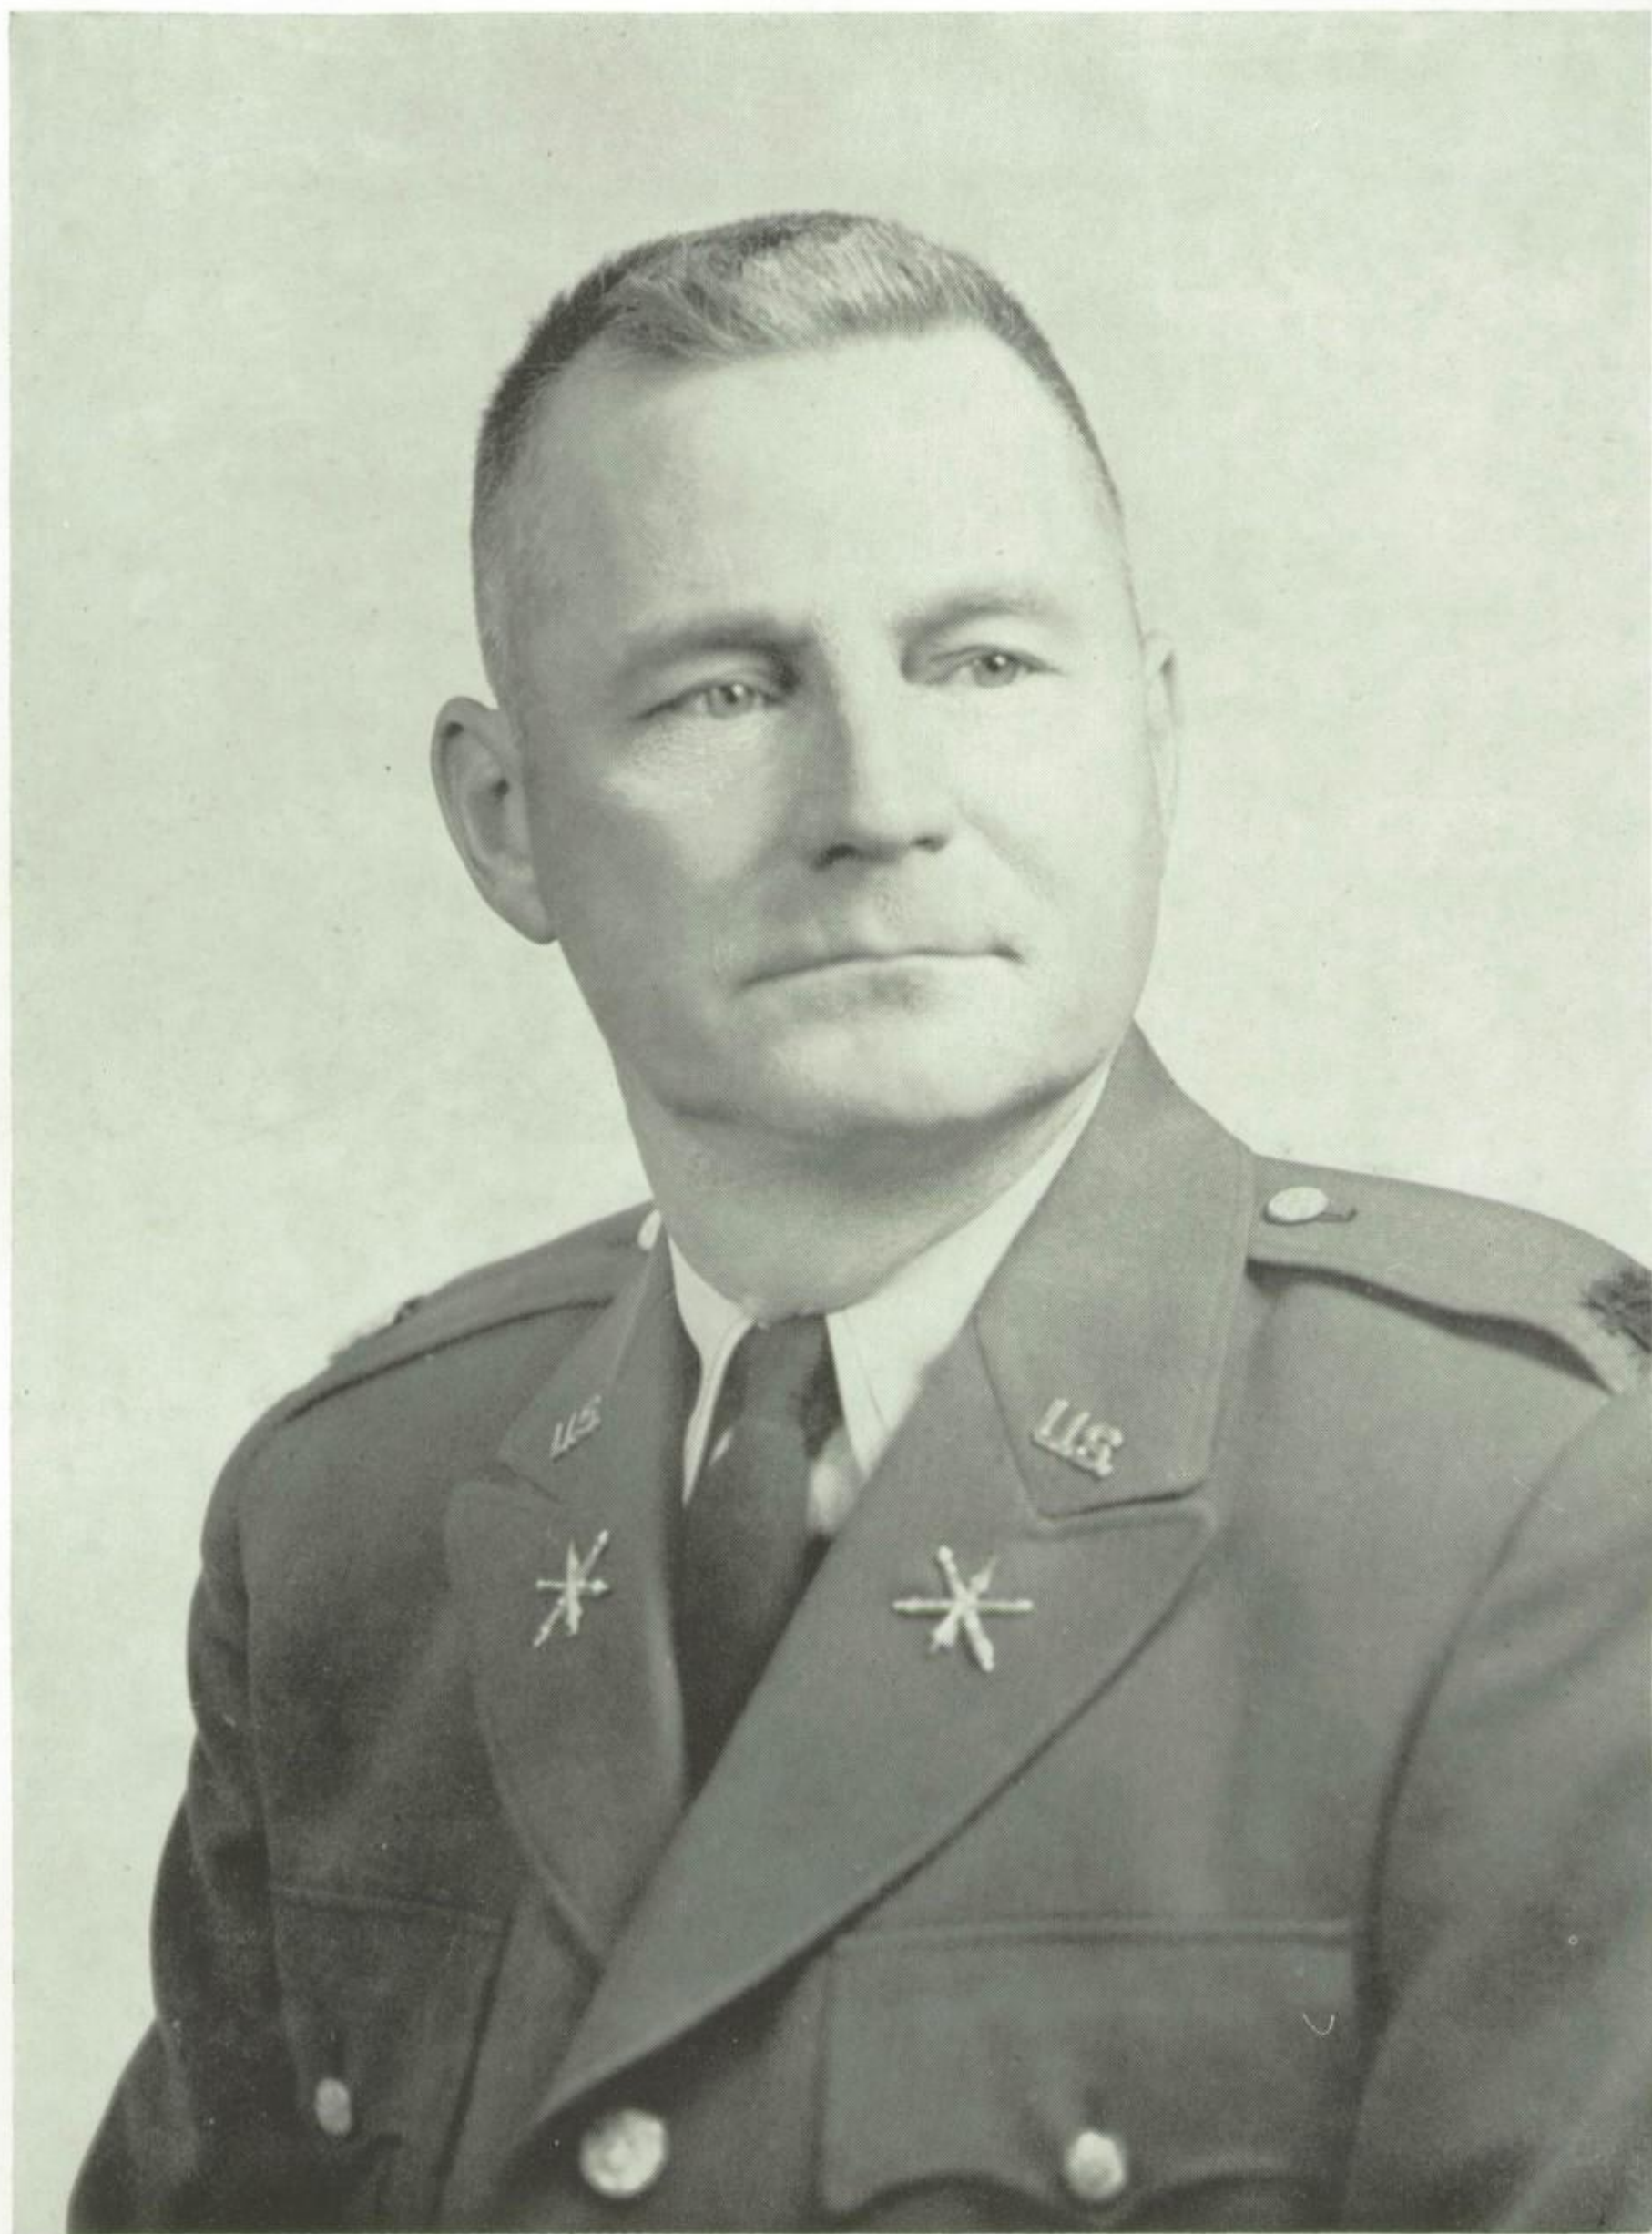

It was April soon after we returned from leave, and that meant Homecoming. Many alumni were back to see their old alma mater and most were very impressed with what they saw. Not only was there the new building to tour, but many said they thought that the cadet corps looked better than it had in the past. Furthermore, construction had started on the new wall donated by the Senior Class. Also in April, the teachers began their routine warnings about exams — "You better study or you'll NEVER get out of here!" But most of the cadets studied anyway because Summer was just around the corner and few wanted to be plagued by the thought of Summer School — not yet, at least. Sooner than it seemed, May was here and that meant just one thing — Graduation! Ah, what a sweet word! Graduation meant freedom; it meant independence; it meant jobs; it meant college; or, perhaps, it meant a ride on Uncle Sam's olive-drab wagon. For most, it meant being away from home again; but the cadets were used to that by now. Many more seniors were accepted to college this month and glad of that.

Gary's show

Well, these are some of the things that happened at the Academy this year. We're sure that all of the cadets will have fine memories of their own: drill and classes and inspection and tours and bullring and haircuts and military classes and Col. Todd's constant and droning announcements and town leave and parades and athletic events (especially when the rifle team won the State Championship for the fourth time in a row) and outside reveille when everyone had the privilege of standing at attention and freezing and staring at the green water tank. Nevertheless, whatever the memory, the year at Hargrave has been wonderful!

Dedication

Col. Rogers caught by the candid camera as he shows some of his fellow coaches how he sank the long one on the 17th hole.

The Class of 1967 and the staff of the Cadence '67 are proud to dedicate this year's edition of the Cadence to Colonel Orlin W. Rogers.

Colonel Rogers came to Hargrave in 1958 and has been an outstanding baseball and rifle team coach as well as Senior Military Instructor.

He graduated from the University of Virginia in 1935, where he was an outstanding baseball and basketball player. After playing for several semi-professional baseball clubs, he was a pitcher for the Washington Senators for two years.

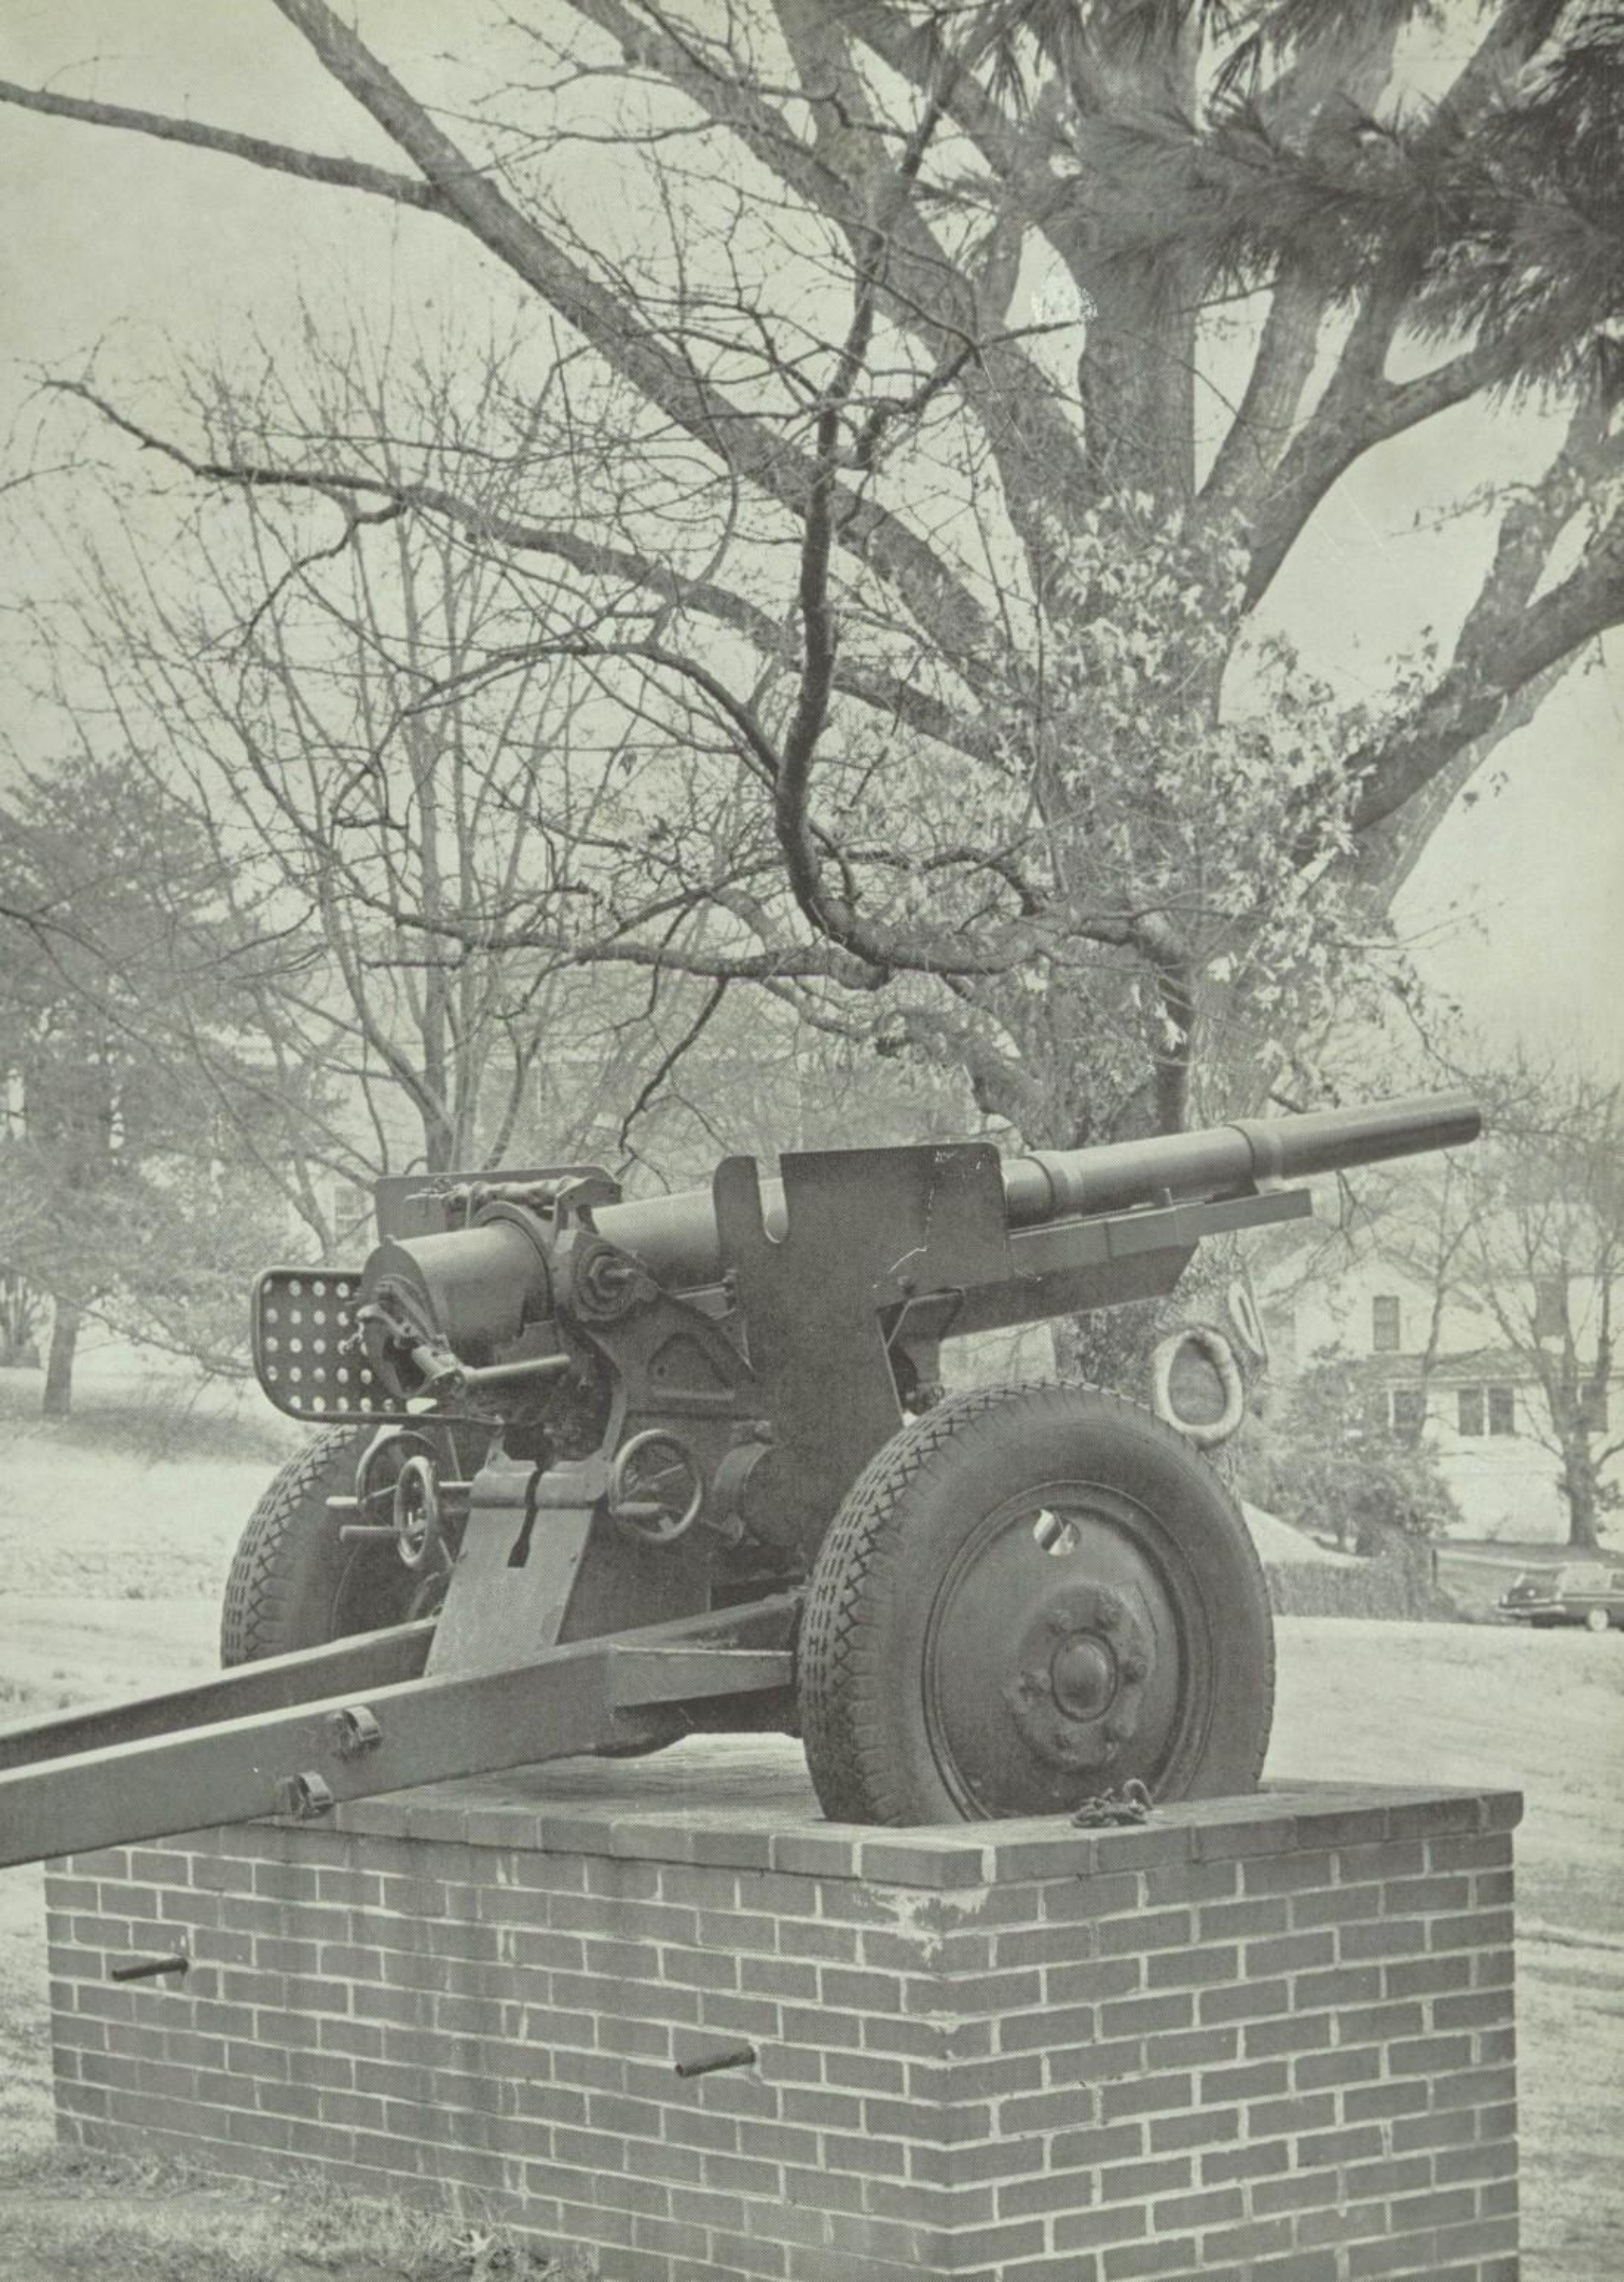

The Colonel has served the school well for the eight years he has been here and many of us have come to know and love him for the help he has given us on our road to manhood.

CHATHAM, VIRGINIA

TELEPHONE HEMLOCK 2-2481

May 26, 1967

Dear Graduating Senior:

This letter is not a note of farewell; rather it is a letter of recommendation. We believe in you and in the preparation which you have secured at Hargrave Military Academy. We believe that you are ready to take your place among your peers, in college, and in life. You should be confident because you have been given a certain competence. We deplore cockiness; but we admire confidence.

We hope that the memories that you will carry with you will cause your mind, and your heart, to turn toward this place and its people many times in the years ahead. As we contemplate the Cadet Chapel, we hope that many of you will want to take your sacred vows of marriage within its walls.

It is our desire to build within each of you our sense of values. Knowledge is not enough. You will need a sense of purpose and direction. We hope that you have memorized the road signs that we have posted here at this school. They all point upward and onward. Your success and your happiness should be constructed from the same cloth.

The friendships which you have made in your prep school days will be very important to you as you separate at Commencement. Many of them will be rewarding to you throughout your life. This is a small world in which friendship looms larger and larger as one grows older. Experiences shared are the basis of true friendship. To meet and to recall boyhood episodes will make Homecoming at Hargrave more significant and desirable. We want you to return, often.

Most of you will be going on to college. The habits of study that you established here will stand you in good stead there. Any let-up may prove fatal to your success. No one will be "leading you by the hand", as you say we do. Our purpose has been to instill good habits. If, in your new found freedom, you rebel against them, you will not only be defeating us, but yourself as well.

"We wish you health; we wish you wealth. We wish you golden store. We wish you heaven, after death; how can we wish you more?"

In affection and trust,

Joseph H. Cosby

The Class of 1968 is much like any other class here at Hargrave. They have climbed the ladder of education and all hope to receive that all important Hargrave diploma next year.

This junior class has seen the Academy grow and expand, and they are proud to have been a part of it all. They have developed not only a sense of school pride, but also a strong sense of pride and devotion.

This year these young men became aware more than ever before of the importance of good grades and the demand for a college degree in order to meet today's complex society. Their first taste of college boards and more difficult academic subjects told them that the road would not be easy. However, with a little effort, it would not be impossible. Thus, they accept this challenge to strive for the best possible preparation for their college years.

By being associated with many of the seniors, they have also learned what it would be like to be graduating, and as alumni, to add to Hargrave's greatness.

The members of the Class of 1969, though still young, are beginning to realize just what this game we call education is all about. Many are mediocre in their tastes and talents, but others are moving swiftly toward academic excellence.

This class represents the future leaders of Hargrave's Cadet Corps, as they will be seniors in a few short years. Most of these young men have been at Hargrave for two or more years, and they like to contribute in their small way to help push her higher up the academic ladder.

These young men look forward to next year, as most will be receiving rank. Although rank is not everything, it does mean a great deal to these younger members of the Corps. To them, rank will symbolize their merit of accomplishment.

Although they are only half way through their high school career, they know how important a good education will be to them in later life. They also look forward to becoming alumni of Hargrave, as they have witnessed previous graduation classes becoming members of this most desired group.

The Class of 1970 were glad to return to Hargrave this year for their second year. They were now able to refer to themselves as "old boys", a title which carries a great deal of prestige here at the Academy. Last year, while first-year cadets, they followed the example set for them by the older boys. This year, however, the tables have been turned, and they are now setting the example for others to follow.

This class looks forward to three more years at the Academy. They see graduation and college as a far distant phase of life; however, such aspects of life are becoming more and more evident in their minds.

The members of the Class of 1970 will push Hargrave to even greater heights. Some of the cadets have found their goal in life, while others are still in doubt. However, they are all confident in the fact that Hargrave has meant a great deal to them, and such ideals are not easily lost through the coming years.

The Class of 1971 see the first year at Hargrave as a new and totally different experience. The members of this class look toward the "old cadets" for guidance and leadership. This class faces four more years here at the Academy. They want to return year after year and one day walk up on the platform and receive their diploma.

They are young, true, but they are not too young to dream and have ideals. Through the proper guidance, they will soon learn that good grades and hard work go hand-in-hand. They will follow their dreams and achieve success.

The Activities

HONOR COUNCIL

Jack Peebles, Vice-Chairman; Bruce Gravatt, Chairman; John Greene, Recorder.

The Honor Council is promoted and operated by the Cadets of Hargrave Military Academy. The Honor Council, which is composed of five members elected by their respective classes and three members appointed by the administration from the Junior and Senior classes promotes the Honor Code on cheating, lying, and stealing.

The HMA honor concept is one of the most important aspects of a cadet's life here at the Academy, and it probably contributes more to the character building of cadets than any other factor.

Hargrave was founded on the belief that along with a thorough development of the intellect of the high school student, there must be development of those personal qualities which will constitute a life of integrity and self-discipline. For this reason, our Honor System is the most important aspect of a cadet's life while he is here at the Academy.

The Faculty Adviser to the Honor Council is Mr. Joseph F. Cline.

BETA CLUB

Probably the most select club on campus is the Beta Club. This club denotes leadership and character as well as academic achievement. Due to the rigid requirements for admission to this nationally known charter club, it is quite small here at the Academy.

Throughout the school year, the club holds special tapping ceremonies for the purpose of inducting new members into the Beta Club. The various cadets who are tapped at an assembly have been voted upon by the members and their records are carefully examined.

The club attended the state Beta Club convention which was held in Richmond, Virginia in March.

The Faculty Adviser for this year was Mr. Robert E. Williams.

(seated) John Geyer, Treas.; Ed Moore, President; Tommy Lankford, Vice-Pres.; (standing) Gene Hayes, Secretary.

SABRE CLUB

The Hargrave Sabre Club is composed of all the cadet commissioned officers in the Corps of Cadets. At the club's regular meetings throughout the school year, they discuss the morale of the Corps along with any problems which may arise, and possible solutions to these problems.

The Sabre Club sponsors the annual Military Ball each year, and this year's dance was hailed as the best ever. The officers plan the dance to the last detail and committees are chosen to decorate the new gym and to secure flowers and entertainment. This year a record number of officers, cadets, and parents attended the Ball, which was held on Saturday night, February 18.

Colonel Andrew W. Todd, Commandant, served the Sabre Club this year as Faculty Advisor.

N.C.O. CLUB

The N.C.O. Club is composed of all of the Non-Commissioned officers here at Hargrave, which includes members of the Junior Class as well as the Senior Class. Much like the Sabre Club, which is composed of all the commissioned officers, the N.C.O. Club holds various meetings during the school year to discuss the ways to make the Corps of Cadets even better than it already is.

The majority of the members are Juniors that have their hopes set on being members of the Sabre Club next year.

Like many of the other clubs and organizations here at the Academy, the N.C.O. Club holds an annual banquet each year in Danville at the end of the school year.

Lt. Col. Orlin W. Rogers, Professor of Military Science, serves faithfully as Faculty Adviser to the club.

The Publications Board is composed of the editors, managing editors, and business managers of both THE CADENCE, the yearbook, and THE MUSKETEER, the newspaper.

The main job of the Publications Board is to make sure that a newspaper and an annual is published during the school year. However, this is only one job which this organization performs. Its other jobs include making sure that the material and information used in all of the publications are in good taste and with the idea that all such material is in the best interest of the school. It also is concerned with the cooperation of the two staffs in order to better promote the ideas and principles of good journalism at Hargrave.

Although the Publications Board is headed by Grayson Greer, Editor-in-Chief of the MUSKETEER, and Bill Reid, Editor-in-Chief of THE CADENCE, its Faculty Adviser is Mr. Tom Buchanan.

This club is composed of all the cadets who are on the staff of either the MUSKETEER or CADENCE. During its regular weekly meetings, the editors assign articles and stories to the reporters, plan coming events and make sure that photographers will be on hand, and discuss various problems which may arise on either the newspaper or the annual.

The members of the Journalism Club vary in both grades as well as ages, but all are interested in one thing — the art of journalism. All cadets who show any potential in the field of journalism are invited to join. During the meetings, cadets learn many principles of good journalism.

At the end of the year, the members go to Danville for a banquet. Although the members of this club receive bars for their efforts, their main reward is the pride they have whenever one of their stories are published in one of the monthly issues of THE MUSKETEER, or whenever they buy an annual and realize that they helped in the preparation of the book. This is worth more to these boys than any other reward which the school may bestow upon them.

Mr. Frank B. Chacey, faculty advisor to THE MUSKETEER, and Mr. Tom Buchanan, faculty advisor to THE CADENCE, are also the advisors to this club.

CADENCE STAFF AT WORK

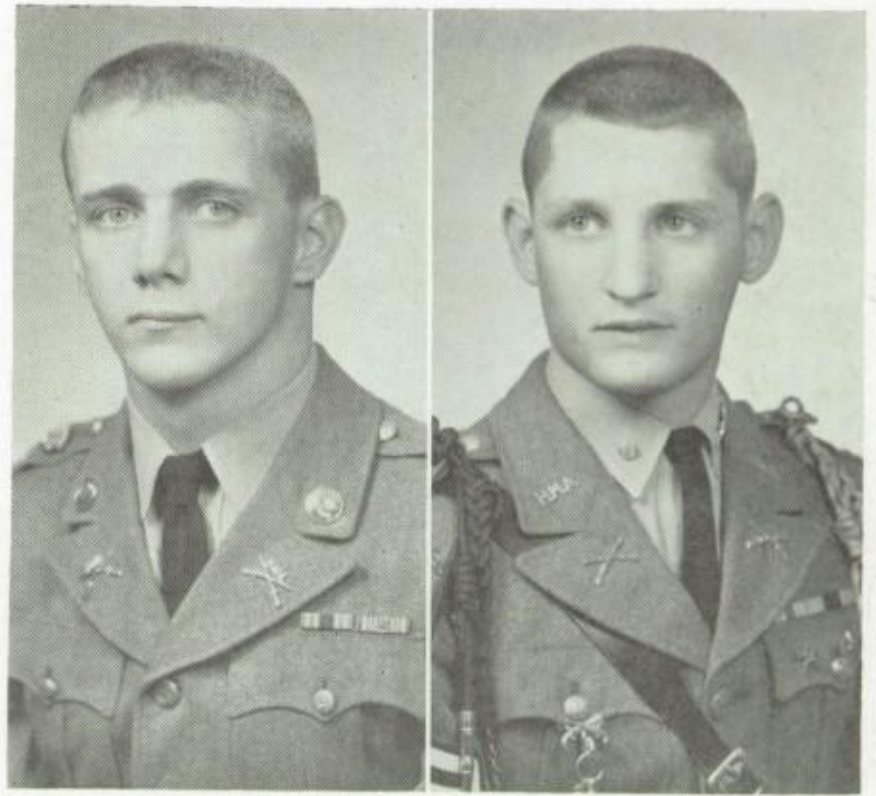

MUSKETEER STAFF

THE MUSKETEER is the Academy's monthly newspaper which is published by the members of the Journalism Club. The monthly paper has a circulation of over 2,000 and is distributed to every cadet. As on all of the publications, cadets devote much of their free time and energy to accomplish the task of making sure that a paper is put out each month, September through May.

The paper, as in most high schools and colleges, plays an important part in the life of a Hargrave cadet. Many of the cadets take a great interest in the newspaper, even if they do not actually work on it.

The staff operates a complete dark room, from which all of the photographs which are used are developed and printed each month, as well as many of the photographs that are used in the yearbook.

THE MUSKETEER this year was headed by Grayson Greer, who served as Editor-in-Chief. Mr. Frank B. Chacey served as the faculty advisor.

CHRISTIAN ACTIVITIES COUNCIL

The Christian Activities Council is a council consisting of a member from every religious group and sect represented here at Hargrave. The main purpose of the Christian Activities Council is to improve the relations of the various denominations. Its members, who are elected to the Council by their respective church groups, sponsor the annual Faith Home Party. This party, held for the children of the Faith Home prior to Christmas Leave, sends each cadet home with the true Christmas spirit.

The members of the Christian Activities Council also attend various meetings throughout the state, give the vesper services throughout the year, and are responsible for the giving of thanks before each meal in the Mess Hall.

This past February its members attended a convention at Natural Bridge, Virginia, where most of the private schools throughout the state send representatives.

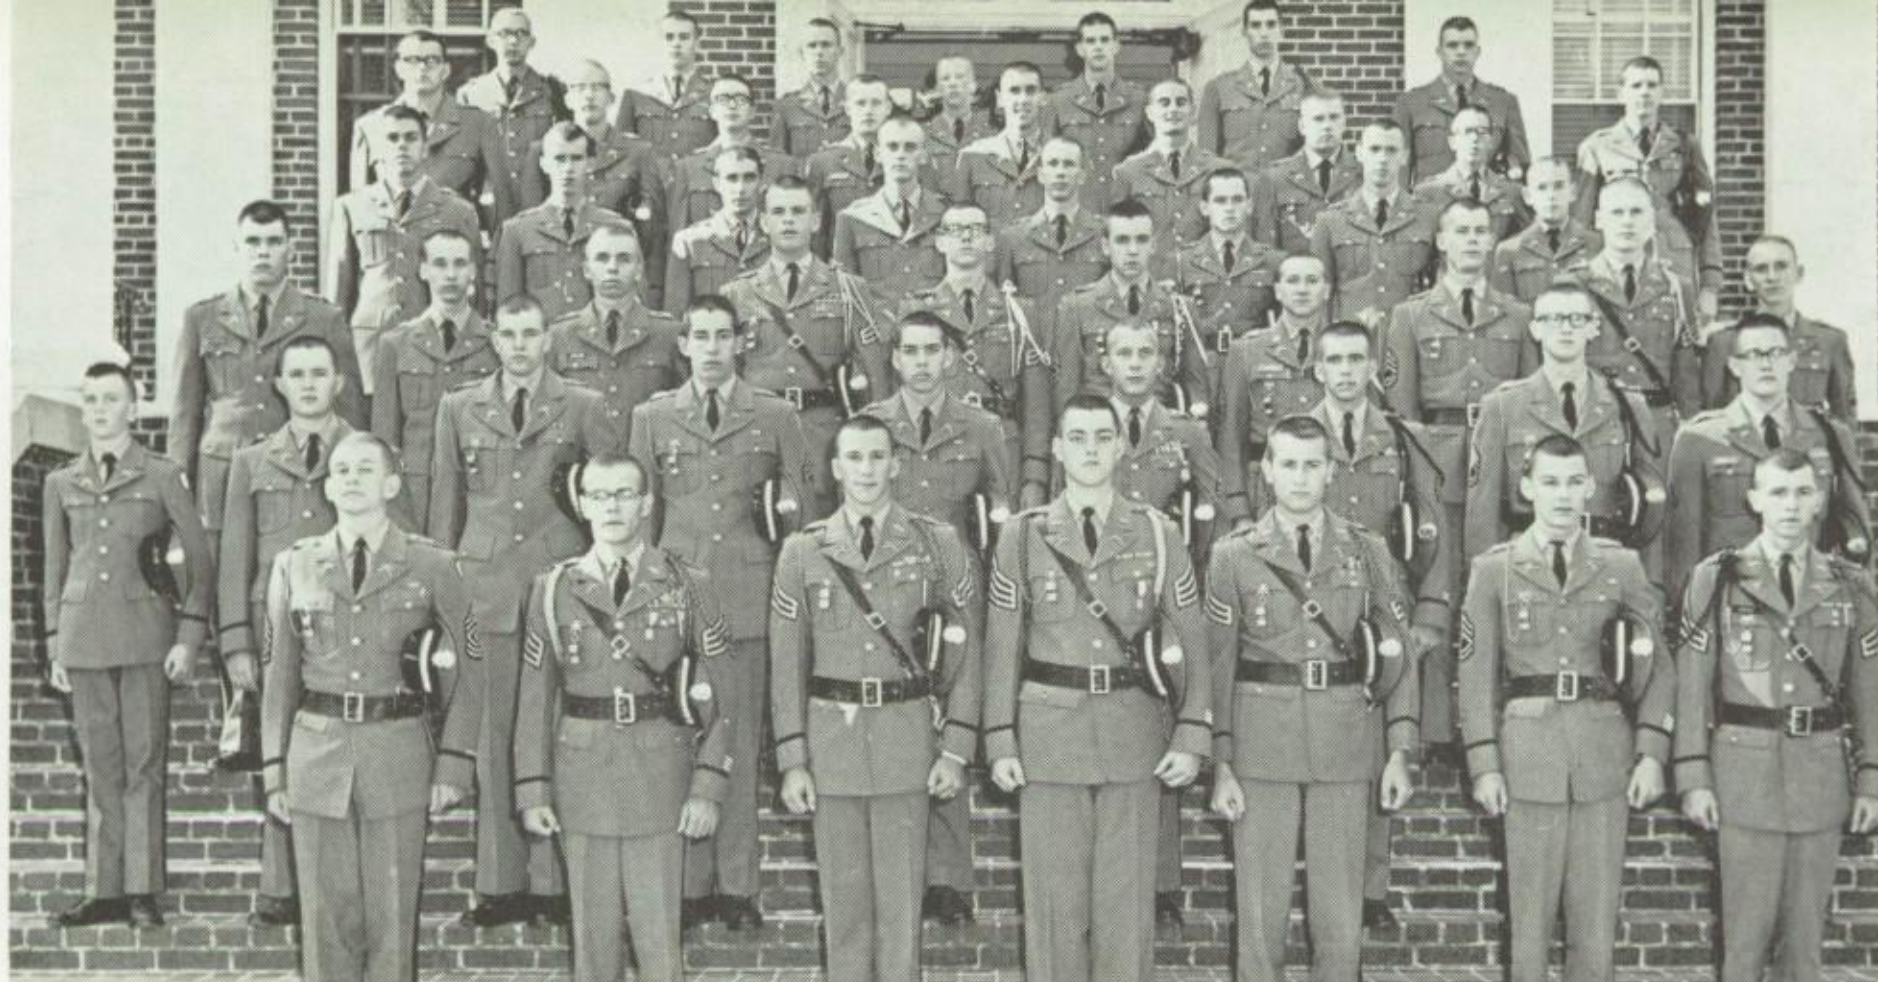

The Chaplain, Dr. Landon B. Spradlin is the Faculty Adviser to this group.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The International Relations Club is a club which is open to all cadets for membership. The only requirement is a keen sense and interest in foreign affairs and world events. During the Club's regular meetings throughout the school year, cadets present programs dealing with foreign problems, situations, or crises as they become news. Each cadet in the Club will present a program before the other members during the course of the year.

This year the club was divided into two different sections, as the membership rose to an all-time high. At the end of the year, its members enjoy a steak dinner and banquet in Danville to wind up another successful year for the Club.

This year Mr. Roger C. Wiley served faithfully as Faculty Adviser to one section and Mr. James C. Akers served as Faculty Adviser to the other section.

The Senior Glee Club is, as it has been in the past, the musical voice of Hargrave. This year the Glee Club met during the afternoon study hall or, as it has been called this year, sixth period. Since the class met just like any other class for required time, grades were issued and credit was given for the course.

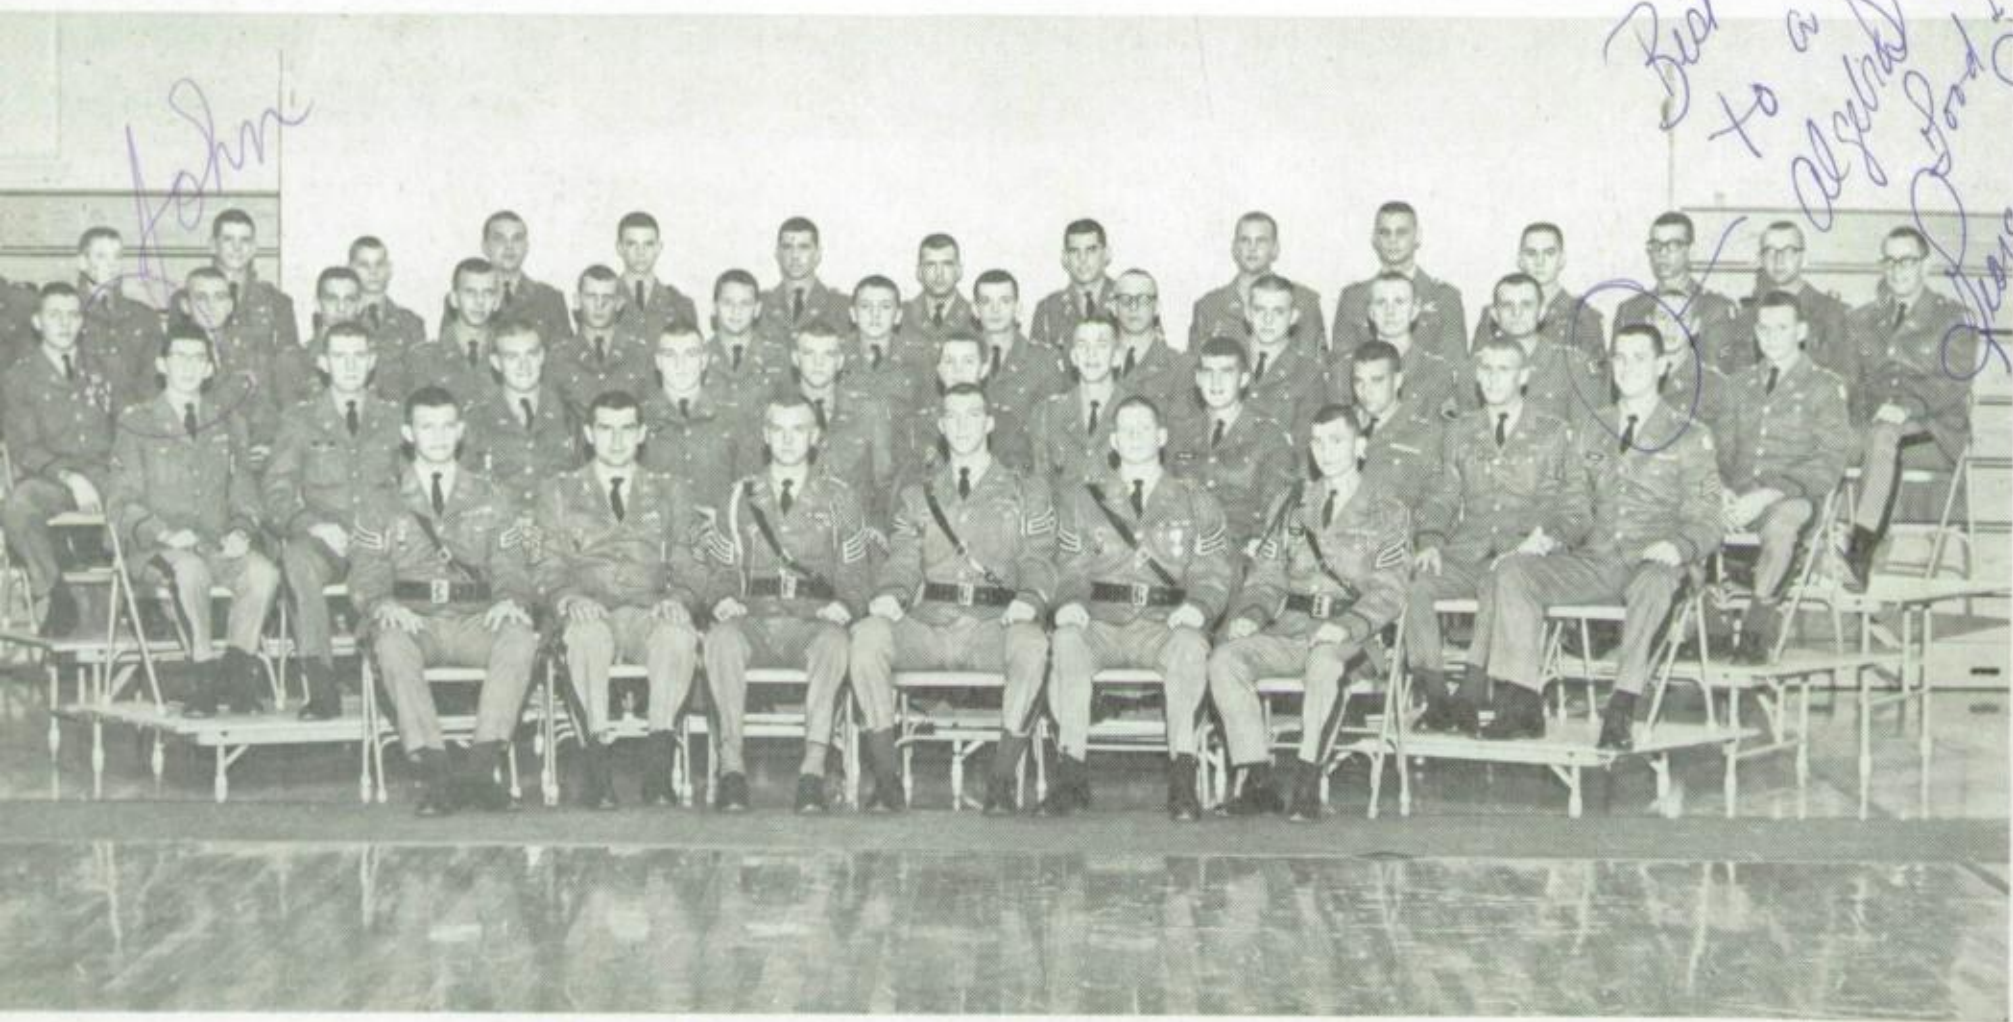

As in the past, the Glee Club went on various trips throughout the year, along with giving various concerts at Christmas and in the Spring.

Captain Roy L. Callahan served as Faculty Adviser and instructor to this group, while Mrs. James E. Parsons served as accompanist.

Captain Roy Callahan, serves as the faculty adviser for the group.

THE RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club here at Hargrave operates radio station WHMA. This project, which was undertaken two years ago, has proved to be very successful. The cadets who are in this club are active and all enjoy working with their own station.

The idea of a radio station on campus was brought up many years ago. The actual building did not start until two years ago, but the progress they have made is great. The station is very popular with the cadets and is known as "Tiger Radio". Col. Ray B. Nichols served the club this year as the faculty advisor.

Ned Williams broadcasts another program.

The Biology Club has combined its talents with the Chemistry, Physics, and General Science Depts. this year and become a combined Science Club. The planned meetings are used to discuss science in general and to talk of each of the specific sciences that are represented in the club. The club went on a field trip to Elon College in North Carolina, and toured the Carolina Biological Supply Co.

The Faculty Advisors are Mr. Geyer, Mr. Maynard, Mr. Burke, and Mr. Clark.

The Chess Club is a new club at Hargrave this year. It was organized by Mr. Frank Kelley who is teaching his first year at Hargrave. THE CAMDEN RIFLES

The Camden Rifles, named for Colonel A. H. Camden, President Emeritus of Hargrave, is the crack-drill platoon. These cadets practice every week, as they know that the best way to gain the perfection they want is by constant practice. Their reward comes whenever they travel to another city and participate in a parade.

The Camden Rifles, along with the Hargrave Marching Band, travels to many cities throughout the state and elsewhere to participate in parades.

Under the leadership and direction of their advisor, Mr. Kearny, the Camden have won many honors and awards. The commander of the team this year was Lt. Mike Shields.

EPILOGUE

Another year, another senior class, another annual has become a part of the history, achievements and memories of Hargrave Military Academy. The task of portraying life at Hargrave is not an easy one; but it has been accomplished, we hope to your satisfaction, in the Cadence of 1967. The staff was small, the experience lacking, the trials many; but through your cooperation and the dedication of the staff and faculty involved, we have completed this edition. The enjoyment you receive and the memories are brought back as you turn the pages of this book are the only reward that the staff will, or wants to receive.

The staff wishes to thank Mrs. E. E. Richardson, Mrs. M. L. Shreves and Mrs. C. B. Crews for their help in making this annual possible. Our thanks also to Colonel Joseph H. Cosby, Colonel Andrew W. Todd, Dean Vernon T. Lankford, Colonel Orlin W. Rogers and all the other members of the faculty and staff that have given unmeasurable time and assistance. To Mr. Tom Buchanan, our faculty advisor, who has spent many hours of his own time in seeing that we made no mistakes in copy, picking our pictures, typing and helping the Business Staff in many capacities, we give our most grateful thanks.

Mr. Will D. Baugh, our printer from J. P. Bell Co., Inc., of Lynchburg and Mr. Harry Klein from Roanoke Engraving Co. who have given much time and assistance and most of all PUT UP WITH US. Mr. Raymond Hitchcock of Hitchcock Studios of Danville, Va. and Mr. Bill Hanesworth of Hanesworth Office Supply and Camera Shop in Danville have given much time and assistance without which we may never have finished. To these men we give our thanks.

To the class of 1967 we give our congratulations and our hope of success in the future and throughout life. We hope that this year's publication of the CADENCE will remind you of the start in education that you received and the experiences, both happy and sad, you have had here at Hargrave Military Academy.
